CHAIRMAN GEX ANSWERS CRITICS

CONSOLIDATION UPHELD IN LETTER TO P.-C. JOURNAL.

GOOD OF BREED ONLY THING CONSIDERED

Head of Standard Directors Thinks McKelvie Sentimental Reasons Are Only Sincere Ones.

W. B. Gex of Graham, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Poland-China Record association, has answered the letters of F. P. Robinson, W. H. Gilbert and Samuel McKelvie against consolidation of the Standard and American, in a letter to the Poland-China Record association, which follows:

Graham, Mo., March 18, 1916.—To the Editor of the Poland-China Journal, Kansas City, Mo: Dear Sir—Waiving my (clouded) official position as chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Poland-China Record association, but in my right as a stockholder and breeder, I would like to say a few things pertaining to the proposed consolidation of the Standard and American Poland-China Record associations and discuss briefly a few of the objections being circulated against it.

In preface, will say that I was born and raised in Nodaway county, and in the 34 years of my life have never been out of it more than four months at a time. That I consider Nodaway county the very best county of the best state in the Union, and Maryville the prettiest and best town (since the last local option election) of its size I have ever seen, and I believe I am absolutely true to their best interests. So when the proposition of consolidation first came to my attention I immediately "sat up and took notice," and began to ponder on the probable effect it would have on Maryville and Nodaway county.

As an officer of the Standard Poland-China Record association, I saw my duty plainly, and was unable to allow selfish personal motives sway me in the course I have taken.

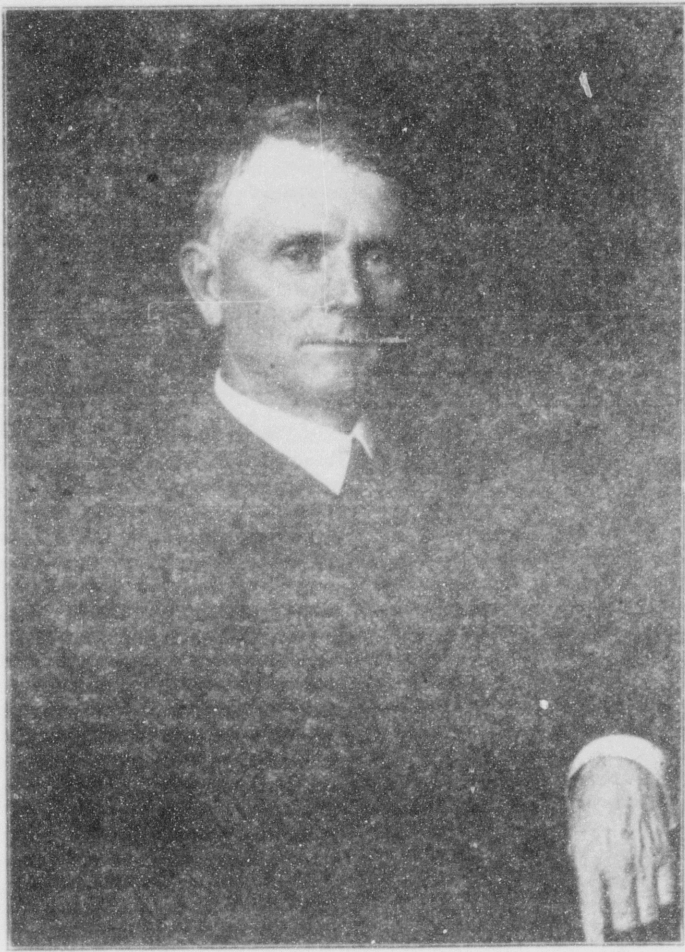

Just Like School Consolidation.
I have long advocated the proposition of consolidation of rural schools as the best solution of the evils besetting the prevailing system, and as the best way to give the greatest service at least expense, and I would be glaringly inconsistent to oppose this consolidation, which, to my mind, offers as great advantages to the Poland-China breed.

Nodaway county produces more hogs than any other county in the state, perhaps as many as any other district of equal area in the United States. This fact, linked with the already equipped new office building, argues as much in favor of the consolidated office being located here as any other place, providing Nodaway county interests present a united front in asking for it, instead of being divided and issuing misleading statements against an amalgamation that means much to the Poland-China breed and breeders.

Now, I have read very little real objections, except on the grounds of sentiment, and I admit the strength of Uncle Sam McKelvie's appeal, but I believe that the founders of the Standard had the best interest of the Poland-China hog so much at heart that they would applaud the consummation of this merger if they could know the fairness which I believe absolutely controls the working out of the details.

I believe, Mr. Editor, that Mr. Robinson's attempt to throw suspicion on the motives of the Standard board is fully answered by the fact that the present attempt at consolidation, with the plan being adopted, emanated from you, who, in your capacity as editor of the Poland-China Journal, the official mouthpiece of Poland-China interests, stand on neutral ground, and can properly urge a proposition of the sort without your motives being subjected (Continued on page 2.)

Candidate for Re-Election

CIRCUIT JUDGE W. C. ELLISON

BIG HONOR TO M.H.S. DEMOCRAT'S DAY

KENNETH VAN CLEVE ON SECOND ALL-STAR TEAM.

NAMED BY THE REPUBLIC

Coach E. M. Todd of Columbia Selected Places—Three Normal Men on All-Missouri Five.

Kenneth Van Cleve, star forward for Maryville high school, jumped into state-wide prominence yesterday by securing a place on the second all-Missouri high school team selected by E. M. Todd, coach of the Columbia high school for the St. Louis Republic. The selections for all places are:

All-State H. S. Fives, FIRST TEAM
Wackher, Sedalia.....Forward
Windle, Joplin.....Forward
Walker, Sikeston.....Center
Kistler, Mexico.....Guard
Voss, St. Joe.....Guard

SECOND TEAM
Mackie, Kirksville.....Forward
Van Cleve, Maryville.....Forward
McPeck, Breckenridge.....Center
Hackey, Charleston.....Guard
Russell, Webster Groves.....Guard

The choices are of interest because made after opinions and all-star teams have been submitted to Mr. Todd by coaches, referees, umpires and prominent authorities who saw important games. Mr. Todd says in part in his article yesterday:

There were approximately 1,000 high school basketball players who played on Missouri teams the past season. To pick out five players from the list, selecting them as the best in their respective positions in the state, is truly a gigantic task.

In picking the players the things which were taken into consideration were individual ability, defensiveness and offensively; the way the player fitted into his team as a cog, size, speed, aggressiveness and the quality of competition. By this last is meant "Did this player play against good enough teams so that we can be sure he would stand the test against first-class opponents?" This much is certain, that all the players on this list are first-class men.

One of Seven Leaders
At forward there were seven players whose work stood out plainly and marked them as worthy of consideration. These fellows were Keath of Mexico, Wackher of Sedalia, Windle of (Continued on page 2.)

ELLISON ANNOUNCES

CIRCUIT JUDGE CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION.

FINE RECORD AS A LAWYER

"Stands Pre-Eminent as Best Qualified for Bench," Said Prominent Democrat Today.

Judge W. C. Ellison will be a candidate for re-election as circuit judge of this district, and The Democrat-Forum is authorized to announce his candidacy today. Judge Ellison, with Mrs. Ellison, has been spending the winter in California. Judge Ellison is rapidly recovering his health, and in the natural course of events will soon be restored to that strength and vigor which have always characterized his services as circuit judge. He is expected to return home within the next few weeks.

Judge Ellison's record as a lawyer has been particularly distinguished since he was enrolled at the bar of this county when a stripling in 1879. The superior talent which he brought to the practice of his profession was developed and enlarged by contact with men of such caliber as Lafe Dawson, W. W. Ramsay, C. A. Anthony, T. J. Johnston, John Edwards, E. A. Vinsonhale, S. R. Beech and Gallatin Craig. In almost every important case on the records of the circuit court of this county for many years his name was enrolled as one of the attorneys.

In time he was elevated to the bench by appointment of Governor Dockery, in response to the universal demand of the people of this circuit. He has been twice nominated without opposition and elected by an overwhelming majority. His judicial services have justified his choice. As one prominent Democrat expressed himself today, when informed that Judge Ellison would be a candidate:

"Without disparagement of the able bar of this judicial circuit it can be said that Judge Ellison stands pre-eminent as the man best qualified to preside over our circuit court. His keen perception has enabled him quickly to see the equities lying behind the controversies tried before him. His wide experience and profound legal learning have enabled him to rule upon them in conformity with the technical requirements of the law. His sterling integrity has secured equal justice to all."

"The people of this circuit would suffer a serious loss were they to be deprived of the conspicuously brilliant services of William C. Ellison as circuit judge."

NO ROBEY OPPOSITION

SINCE THORNHILL WITHDRAWAL, FIELD IS CLEAR.

F. P. Robinson and Mayor U. S. Wright Being Mentioned—Commission Form Vote April 6.

Since the withdrawal of John G. Thornhill as a candidate for mayor at the coming city election, it is now freely predicted that the only candidate in the field, Arthur S. Robey, will have no opposition. While Mayor U. S. Wright and Fred P. Robinson are being mentioned as candidates for the position, it is understood today that neither of them will run. Mayor Wright still declares he is not a candidate again.

An election to vote on the commission form of government as requested by a petition that has been on file with Mayor Wright will be set for Thursday, April 6, or two days after the city election. It is probable that Mayor Wright will issue the call within the next few days.

There seems to be no way to withdraw the petition that was circulated by the Commercial club. It is freely predicted that the proposition will not carry at that time, as there will be too many issues involved, being so near after the city election.

My office will be closed from March 20th to the 26th.

3 'LARGEST EVER'S' GREATEST WAR MEET

LAST HOSMER SALES HAVE AVERAGED $8,000.

BIG SATURDAY FEATURE

Crowds Attracted to Maryville by Them—Collins Sale Totaled $6,000.

Three Saturday sales of R. P. Hosmer in six weeks have averaged $8,000. At the one last Saturday, which was the third straight "largest" sale, 135 head of cattle were sold and about 60 head of horses and mules.

The other two sales were held two weeks and a month ago last Saturday. The sales are rapidly becoming one of the big drawing cards to trading in Maryville on Saturday, and the size of the crowds last Saturday demonstrated this.

The sales have been held in Gray's sale pavilion, and at each time Third street has been jammed with the cord of buyers and their teams.

The Collins sale last Friday totaled $6,000. The Angus cattle made up of cows, calves and heifers, averaged $90. Brood sows were sold at from $30 to $40.

OVER $1,800 IN CANVASS

Swinehart-Airy Team Secured Largest Amount—Best Presbyterian Canvasser Ever Held.

The every-member canvass team of the Presbyterian church, which was led by H. P. Swinehart and Emery Airy were most successful in getting the largest amount in pledges yesterday. The team led by John Dempsey and Fred Yeomans came next, and third among the nine teams was that of John Richey and C. Edwin Wells.

The canvass was the best ever held in one day by the church and the subscriptions will be the largest in several years. With some cards still to come in, $1,813 has been reported for the day's work. A similar day last year secured $1,250. From the same individuals who subscribed the $1,800 this year, $1,500 was received last year, so that the amount merely indicates a better one-day canvass.

Dinner was served after church Sunday at the manse by the women of the teams, at which the work was outlined by the pastor and other leaders.

CENSORSHIP YET UNRELAXED TODAY

BUT INDICATIONS ARE VILLA IS HEMMED IN.

BELIEVED THAT BANDIT WILL JOIN ZAPATA

If Such is Intention, Only Carranza Troops on South Can Stop Him.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

El Paso, March 20.—While the censorship is unrelaxed, a sifting of the reports indicates that Villa is hemmed in among the canyons of the Guerrero mountains and is surrounded on the south by several columns of Carranza troops.

With the American troops closing in from the north, Villa is reported to have split his forces into two bands, which are fleeing along the mountain trails in the region of Babicora and the lakes south of Galena. It is believed that the bandit leader will attempt to escape through the passes to join Zapata, the southern rebel. If this is his intention, only Carranza troops can stop him.

Official Reports to Funston.
San Antonio, March 20.—General Funston received an official report from Pershing today stating that all was well with the expedition. The report said that the Carranzistas at Casas Grandes were friendly but passive.

The American cavalry forces are dividing into small groups, which is taken to mean that Villa has divided his bandit followers into small bands. When the dispatch was sent, Pershing and his forces were 119 miles south.

10,000 U. S. Troops in Mexico.
Washington, March 20.—American troops hunting Villa now number more than ten thousand, according to reports. Seven regiments are still on the border waiting orders.

The house spent its time today in a debate of the Kuhn amendment to the Hay bill increasing the regular army to 220,000 men.

"Villa Didn't Lead Raid."

San Antonio, March 20.—Otto Franks, a wealthy cattle man at Santa Catalino, today informed General Funston that Villa did not lead the Columbus raid. Franks declared he knew where Villa was at the time.

No Answer on Railroads.

Washington, March 20.—President Wilson and Acting Secretary of State Polk held a conference on the Mexican situation. They afterwards stated that no reply has been received from Carranza regarding the use of the Mexican railroads.

Small Skirmishes Report.

Laredo, March 20.—Reports of a fight between the American troops and Villa patrols were received by Carranza officers at Nuevo Laredo this morning. There were no details.

Shot at Bulgarian Premier.

Bucharest, March 20.—A Bulgarian postal employee named Ivanhoff made an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria at Sofia yesterday. The prime minister was unhurt, the bullet striking the coachman and wounding him slightly.

Sovereign Commander Will Visit Magnolia Camp, No. 8, for Banquet and Installation.

W. A. Fraser, sovereign commander, the highest office within the gift of the Woodmen of the World, will be here tonight for the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet and initiation. A long distance message from Omaha settled all doubt about that matter Saturday afternoon.

The coming of the high official from the sovereign camp to Magnolia camp, No. 8, assures a big time for the Maryville members tonight. The Woodmen Circle will serve a banquet and a large class of candidates will be initiated.

"SHOT UP" LUMBER YARD

But When W. A. Burris Started to Arrest Frank Ferree, His Hip Pocket Contained a Kerchief.

Frank Ferree, a stranger to Maryville, who said that he was worried and took several "nips" too many to drown it, "terrorized" the Phares lumber yard office Saturday afternoon. With his hand on his hip he ordered everybody into the street except a traveling man whom he threatened to shoot "full of holes" if he did go.

E. E. Tilton, city marshal, and Stephen Viles, night watchman, could not be found immediately so city clerk, W. A. Burris made the arrest. Mr. Ferree had a handkerchief in that hip pocket when Mr. Burris walked in and took charge of him. He was fined $10 and costs by Police Judge Wright.

to suspicion. Mr. Robinson questions the fidelity of two members of the Standard board to Standard interests, accusing subservency to the American Record office. I have only known the other members of the board a little while, but if I ever saw or knew a bunch of men who stood on their own feet or sat on the base of their own spines, these men do. Mr. Robinson's seeming solicitude about the fairness to the Standard association in the re-organization is very much discounted in my estimation when I recall that in a recent talk I had with him, he said that he would be absolutely opposed to the consolidation unless he could be made quite certain that the Standard would get more than a fair deal in it, adding details which would make consolidation absolutely impossible of attainment. Now, this looks pretty raw to me, and must surely appear so to any fair minded man. This makes it evident that his article is written with the express purpose not to promote fair open discussion of the merits of consolidation, but to defeat consolidation through a questionable motive.

Well Known Uprightness Enough.

Mr. Walters, our president, and all of the men who constitute the Standard board (except myself, although unanimously elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. W. O. Garrett—see page 74 of the minutes) are so widely known as reliable, conscientious breeders and breed promoters that any attempt to cast suspicion on the motives actuating them in this consolidation will surely act as a boomerang.

The attempt to frighten the stockholders out of sending in their stock is ridiculous, for anyone knows that until it is transferred on the Record's books and signed over to some particular person, recording may be done at the usual cost, and that it will only need to be signed over for a few days at the most. Anyone who reconsiders may have his stock back, of course. There has been absolutely no attempt to take snap judgment, and we believe that those who send in their stock do so because of the conviction of the advantages in consolidation.

As to the Standard's secretary being too friendly to the American association, for the love of heaven isn't the time passed when editors of rival papers shoot each other on sight, when political opponents fight duels, when men engaged in the same business fly at each other's throats? Doesn't the fact that the secretary of the American Record is president of the National Swine show, and that our own secretary is superintendent of the Poland-China's of this greatest of shows, make amicable relations between them absolutely necessary?

As to Mr. Gilberts communication, its rank inconsistencies would be laughable were they not insulting to the intelligence of the stockholders. He talks against consolidation, his figures argue for it. He warns the stockholders against the signing of their stock; he blandly states that they will not take issue on the proposition. He says the stockholders will arouse to conditions and see that a change is made (in secretary presumably). Again, he assures us that we cannot be induced to arouse enough to take action on anything, no matter how important to us as breeders. Vindictiveness and not the interest of the Standard Poland-China Record association are plainly guiding his every move.

These are my views, and if you care to use them in the columns in your paper you are at liberty to do so.

Very truly yours,
W. B. GEX.

We are today installed in and doing business in the Kuchs-Lippman building, half block north of our old corner.

We shall remain in this building, working in crowded quarters until our new $85,000.00 home is completed in the fall. The contractors assure us there will be no delay in any part of the work and that we can take possession at the earliest possible date.

In the meantime we wish to insure our customers and depositors, that while conducting business under many disadvantages for the time being, that no effort or pains will be spared to look after every individual want.

We have secured the services of John Wallace, who will act as night watchman, remaining on duty continuously—just another effort to insure the fullest protection for moneys, records and deposit boxes of our customers.

To our friends and the people of Maryville and Nodaway county we wish to emphasize again our desire to serve. It is real. The growth and permanency in this community of the Farmers Trust Company has been made possible through co-operation and appreciation of this fact leads us to put forth our best efforts.

SICK, CONSTIPATEDBest for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

1-3 OF STUDENTS WORKY. M. C. A. BUREAU AT M. U. HAS GREAT RECORD.Secretary J. S. Moore Gives Some Advice on Man Expecting to Earn
Part of Way.

One-third of all the men students in the University of Missouri at Columbia either work all or part of their way thru school, according to a bulletin recently issued by the Y. M. C. A. at the University.

The Y. M. C. A. maintains a free employment bureau to assist students in obtaining employment. Columbia is not a large city but the citizens and the faculty are in sympathy with students who are working and turn over all the work possible to them. The student who intends to work his way through school should have at least $150 when he reaches Columbia. Students who do not work have gone through the first year with $225 and even less, but the Y. M. C. A. authorities say that the average cost is from $250 or $300 a year. During the first year it is hard to obtain work, but as the student becomes better acquainted the jobs are more frequent and by the second semester many students are self-supporting, and they can get their jobs without the aid of the employment bureau.

No man should plan to work his way through college unless it is absolutely necessary for him to do so, says J. S. Moore, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. There is not enough work in Columbia for those students who need it.

The following are some of the kinds of work done by students: Janitor work, farm work, waiting tables, pressing clothes, clerking, musical work, tutoring, general office work, stenography and typewriting, bookkeeping, laboratory assistance, problem reading and odd jobs. Unskilled labor is paid fifteen or twenty cents an hour; skilled labor, such as typewriting and bookkeeping, twenty-five cents an hour. Musicians, printers and the like earn more.

P. T. Barnum said, "The American people like to be humbugged." In no other way is this statement of the great showman so well proved as by the demand for medicines and the blind faith the average person puts in drugs.

We import into this country every year more than $100,000,000 worth of drugs or chemicals used in making drugs.

We consume more than $500,000,000 worth of drugs every single year. Can any reasonable person believe that there is any necessity for this or that it can do anything but harm? asks Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri at Columbia.

When we consider patent medicines, the increase in their manufacture and use has been even more surprising. In 1879, there were 620 factories making patent medicines, and the value of the output was $16,885,498. In 1909, there were 3,642 establishments, and the value of the output was $141,941,602. During this period the population of the country had increased from 50,000,000 to 92,000,000. The population had increased only 83.3 per cent, whereas the output of patent medicines had increased 740 per cent.

It is known that most of these drugs are taken by people without the advice of a physician and without any special knowledge as to their proper use, either as to quantity or as to period of time which they are taken. It goes without saying that a drug which is powerful enough to produce effects in illness must produce ill effects in health when taken over a considerable period of time or in large doses. It has been well said that when we give medicines, "we are putting drugs of which we know little, into bodies of which we know less." The blind faith which the majority of people have in the efficacy of medicines is a great evil. It is worse where drugs are taken in preparations the composition of which we do not know. Many people take large amounts of alcohol and opiates without knowing it, and drug habits are acquired in this way. The Harrison Anti-Narcotic Law has had good effect, but has not entirely abolished this evil.

As an actual matter of fact, there are not more than a dozen drugs which have a marked and specific effect on disease. Striking examples are: Quinine, which is a specific poison for the malarial germ; mercury and certain preparations of arsenic, which destroy the germ of syphilis. Treatment and diet are more efficacious in the cure of most diseases than are drugs. The great majority of diseases are self limited, and get well themselves, and the effort of a conscientious physician is to assist nature in bringing about the cure. Drugs have little effect in most diseases except for the relief of symptoms. When used at all, they should be given under the direction of a competent physician. It is imperative that the composition of medicines and the dosage should be known.

The Roof of the World

"From Greenland's icy mountains,
From India's coral strand
Where Afric's sunny fountains
Roll down their golden sand,
From many a distant river,
From many a palmy isle
They call us to deliver
Their heads from sun and rain."

You will find CERTAIN-TEED affording equal protection from the snow and ice of the Arctic, and the sun and rain of the Tropics. It is literally "the roof of the world".

Making roofing is the General's chief business. He makes one-third of all the roll roofing made in America—thirty-nine other manufacturers make the balance. Such predominance is due to the General's ability to make the highest quality roofing at the lowest cost.

Every advantage that men, money, mills and machinery can offer is used to increase production, maintain quality and lower the cost. The result is that today CERTAIN-TEED, the world's best quality, costs less than interior roofing cost ten years ago.

CERTAIN-TEED is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a scientific blend of soft asphalt, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it lasts longer.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

Laugh

A little boy was visiting his grandparents in town. Most of his life of three years had been on a farm. One day he was at the door when the mail came. Running into the sitting room with the letters he said with surprise: "The mail man just came and he's a footin' it."

Fuller D. Grippe, 16-year-old son of G. Fuller Grippe, will probably object to being placed in a "laugh" column.

but isn't this worth it. He was heard to remark recently that he never likes to see the warm weather come, for it just means running the gauntlet of front porches with his girl.

Mr. Reuillard and Kindling.

F. P. Reuillard is far enough away from the incident now that he will probably be able to laugh with the rest of us. He says that he had not broken a piece of kindling over his knee in many years (wonder who builds the fires), but the other day he wanted to break a piece of kindling in two. Raising it up he came down with much force across his right knee.

The piece of kindling had a nail in it. That's why he limped for several days.

His Brains Stuttered.

"Cease, cease your pother!" we sternly commanded the disputants. "Why waste the golden hours in wrangling which is destined to be as fruitless as climbing pine trees in pursuit of pineapples? Though you argue about the war until the crack of doom splits wide open, you cannot change the facts one jot or tittle—we mean, one lot or little—that is, tit or lottle—er—er—lit or jottle—h'm! h'm!—jil or little—ar-ah!—"

"That is the first time," observed one of the men upon whom we were endeavoring to bestow a great truth, "that I ever had the pleasure of seeing a person stuttering in his brains."

Getting Booze in Dry Town.

The train stopped in a prohibition town, said a traveling man in St. Joseph today. A man thrust his head out of a window and excitedly called out: "A woman has fainted in here! Has anyone any whisky?" A man in the crowd reluctantly put his hand to his hip pocket and drew forth a bottle about half full, and handed it up to the man in the open window. To the astonishment of all, the man put the bottle to his lips and drained the contents. Then as the train pulled out, he called back to the bewildered on-lookers: "It always did make me nervous to see a woman faint."—Stock Yards Journal.

Editorial Troubles.

The printer's foreman entered the editorial sanctum and was surprised to find the editor's face badly bruised. "Had a fall down stairs?" asked the foreman.

"No. It's our account of the Jones-Smith wedding, which ought to read, 'Miss Smith's dimpled, shining face formed a pleasant contrast with Mr. Jones' strong, bold physiognomy.'"

"And this is how it reads, 'Miss Smith's pimply, skinny face formed a pleasant contrast with Mr. Jones' stony, bald physiognomy.'"

"Send that proofreader to me at once," he continued, throwing one blood stained handkerchief in the waste basket and searching for a clean one. "There's fight left in me yet."—Exchange.

Careful St. Jo. Mothers Treat Children's Colds Externally

They Say Internal Dosing Harms Delicate
Little Stomachs—"Outside"
Applications Better.

Careful mothers everywhere realize that internal medicines are injurious to the delicate stomachs of the little folks. Still croup and cold troubles must have some form of treatment. The answer to this problem is the Southern "external" treatment Vap-O-Rub. This was introduced in St. Jo., Mo., for the first time last winter, and a number of ladies were presented with complimentary jars by their druggists on condition that they give Vap-O-Rub a thorough test. Here are the reports from several of these ladies—

Mrs. Sam House, 1206 Prospect Ave., writes—"My little daughter had Diphtheria last fall, and now every little cold she takes settles in her throat. We have thought twice she was going to have Diphtheria again, but during one of her bad spells my druggist sent me a jar of Vap-O-Rub. I used it for four nights on her throat with such good results that now I don't like to be without it. I have used it on myself and my husband for bad colds and have found it just fine."

Mrs. John Paynter, 2432 S. 17th St.,

writes: "My druggist sent me a trial jar of Vap-O-Rub, which I soon had occasion to try on my 'croupy' baby. Before putting her to sleep for the night, I applied the salve over her chest and throat with my fingers. The results proved very satisfactory, and now I would not be without it."

Mrs. M. A. Myers, 2943 Sylvan Ave., says—"When our three year old boy had a severe cold, about a month ago, I tried a jar of Vap-O-Rub. I rubbed it on his chest and let him inhale it, and he was relieved almost immediately, and got better in a few days. I think your remedy is the best thing for colds we have ever used."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub comes in salve form, and when applied to the heat of the body the ingredients are vaporized by the body warmth. These vapors, inhaled at night, carry the medication with each breath, through the air passages, to the lungs. Vick's will be found better than internal medicine for all forms of cold troubles—from head colds, catarrh and asthmatic troubles—down to deep chest colds, bronchitis, sore throat or incipient pneumonia. Three sizes—25c, 50c and $1.00.

SEPARATOR PROFITABLE

THIRD TO FOURTH MORE CREAM
THAN SKIMMING.

Dairy Department Gives Reasons for Use of Mechanical Help in Milk Supplies.

The handling of milk constitutes one of the problems of the farm. Hence it may be profitable to call attention to the advantages to be gained by the use of a cream separator.

The cream separator is one of the modern inventions which increases the profits and lightens the labor on the farm, according to C. H. Eckles of the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri at Columbia. The genuine cream separator not the tin can kind, removes practically all the cream from milk. By using the separator, from one-fourth to one-third more butter can be made than when the cream is raised by gravity in the common crock or pan. That is to say, four cows with a separator are equal to five similar ones without a separator. The separator gets enough more cream just about to pay for itself in one year where ten average cows are kept.

The quality of butter made from separator cream is always better and often sells for two cents or more a pound higher than butter made from cream secured by the old gravity process. The labor of caring for milk is no small item for the farmer's wife. With the separator the labor is greatly reduced. When milking time comes the milkers take the separator pails with them, milk the cows, separate the milk, feed skim milk to the calves or pigs and bring the cream to the house along with the separator bowl for washing.

The warm, sweet, skim milk secured from the separator is the best possible condition for feeding calves and pigs and is of great value for this purpose. The up-to-date farmer raises his calves on skim milk and sells the cream to pay for keeping the cow.

The initial expense is practically the only one attached to a separator. On the farm of the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri a separator has been used to separate the milk of twenty-eight cows twice a day for four years, with less than $1 expense for repairs.

There are twelve or fifteen kinds of separators that will give good satisfaction if used under proper conditions.

What Others Believe

OPPOSED TO THE SIGNS.
Dear Editor:—The writer noticed an article in one of your back numbers concerning the disregard to the "Turn to your right" signs by auto drivers. When these were first introduced the writer himself thought that they were a good improvement, but after having seen them in use he has changed his mind absolutely. They are a big joke for various reasons.

First: They are painted a color which makes them impossible to see at night by drivers of horses as well as by drivers of autos.

Second: Our streets are of such odd widths that these signs can not be placed at any good position. If a driver attempted to turn the corner at First and Buchanan streets at a pace faster than the low speed of a snail, the car would run into its own tail light.

The sign at Main and First is so placed that if a driver was going west on east First driving at the extreme right, and if he attempted to cross Main still continuing in a straight path he would invariably hit the sign post. Let us note this driver as driver No. 1. Now suppose that this driver No. 1 wished to go south on Main, at the same time obeying the sign post. He would be forced to make a turn such that to a driver coming from the north it would seem that driver No. 1 was going to GO north on Main. Now driver No. 2 would pay no more attention to driver No. 1 thinking that the latter was going north, but would suddenly wake up to the fact that driver No. 1 had swung in front of him, possibly too late to avoid an accident. Now neither driver would be to the fault, as can be plainly seen by one who has experienced the same.

The writer has noticed in large cities that drivers are forced to drive to the right and not to cut corners but they are not forced to turn square corners. The writer is not a theorist, if he was he would still be in favor of the signs.

AIR MEN TOSSED HOURS ON SEA

Two Battle More Than a Day
For Lives In Adriatic.

DISTRESS SIGNALS NOT SEEN

Hydroplane Went Wrong and Dropped to Water With W. E. Doherty, an American, and a Companion While
They Were Searching For Submarines of Italy's Foe.

Milan, Italy.—William Ellwood Doherty, a young American whose career as an air man has abounded in perilous adventure, has just added to his list a fight for life lasting more than twenty-nine hours in the wintry waters of the Adriatic. Once before he had been stranded in the same sea in midsummer and collapsed from thirst and heat. This time he had the other extreme of weather, battling with a northern gale, and was rescued when on the verge of exhaustion.

Austrian submarines were patrolling the Adriatic while the Italians were sending troop ships across to Albania. Doherty set out in a Curtiss hydroplane to patrol the passage and give warning of danger. He left Taranto at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with an Italian helper. As daylight was falling the motor broke down, and the hydroplane dropped to the water.

Italian vessels were in sight, but did not see Doherty's signals for help. With darkness the wind rose and waves broke over the tiny craft. Doherty took away the drip pan of the machine. The two cold, hungry, water-soaked men used it to bail with. By working one at a time without stopping they were able to keep afloat, although every high wave gave them a fresh drenching.

They had lost their scant provisions in the descent to the water, and in the tossing of the hydroplane their cigarettes and matches went overboard.

The weather became intensely cold. In the respite from bailing the air man who was free kept lookout for a ship. One came in sight several hours after dark, but passed on, not seeing the smoke bombs with which the aviators tried to hail it. Throughout the night and all the next morning the men relieved each other with the drip pan bailing.

Finally, too tired to work longer and despairing of rescue, Doherty curled up in the end of the craft. Sleep overcame him, but he had nightmare and was roused when a lurch of the plane nearly spilled him into the sea. Again he took his turn at bailing.

The specter of death was before the eyes of both men when night fell once more. Then a torpedo boat headed toward them appeared on the horizon. They exploded more smoke bombs and wildly waved their signal flags. This time they were seen. The torpedo boat approached, lowered a small boat and rescued men and wreck twenty miles from shore.

Italian craft had been looking for Doherty and his companion ever since the machine failed them. Allowance had not been made for the wind, which blew the unfortunates seaward, and the search was confined to an area comparatively near shore until the torpedo boat struck out into the open.

Naval commanders who had engaged in the early search reported the first night that Doherty and his companion probably were lost. Their return to shore was hailed as little short of miraculous.

Doherty recovered within a day from the effects of his exposure. Substitutes had taken over his patrol duty in the Adriatic, however, and he decided to shift his field of activity. He has gone to Paris and London in search of further adventure.

ELECTROCUTED IN BATHTUB.

Portable Electric Light Bulb Fell and Caused Death.

Toledo, O.—When a portable electric light fell into the bathtub in which she was sitting Mrs. Josephine Bellows was electrocuted.

Mrs. Bellows, who was twenty-two years old, was alone, her husband having gone to Buffalo. She turned on the water, got into the tub and was reading a magazine while the tub filled. A small portable electric light was attached to a stand beside the tub, and this became detached and fell. The bulb was shattered, and in trying to catch the cord it is supposed Mrs. Bellows' hand came in contact with the exposed wires.

KISS FOR AUTO FAIR TRADE.

That Was Verdict of Iowa Jury Upholding Woman.

Davenport, Ia.—That the kiss which Mrs. Bertha Spangler claims she gave Thomas Brown for an automobile was a fair trade was the verdict of a Scott county jury.

Brown brought the suit in an attempt to show that he was the owner of the car and had merely let Mrs. Spangler, his housekeeper, use the machine. The woman testified that Brown had given her the car, the compensation being a kiss. The jury was out for four hours before a verdict was finally agreed upon which gave the machine to the woman.

POWER OF PRAYER.

Mother Will Mortgage Home to Go to Her Kidnaped Children.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Eager to see her two children, kidnaped from her fifteen years ago and just found after a search she never abandoned, Mrs. Ella Barnhart declared that she would mortgage her little home and go to them at once. "It was the power of prayer," she said, in telling how, after inquiring from house to house in the cities of many states, she at last discovered the whereabouts of her boy and girl in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Barnhart was living with her husband at Mount Vernon, Mo., when her husband kidnaped the children while she was sick. As soon as she recovered she started the search which lasted for sixteen years.

Stork Visits Business Partners.
Haddonfield, N. J.—A peculiar coincidence in births occurred here. J. C. Remington and Winfield Vosbury constitute the firm of Remington & Vosbury, engineers, of Camden. Both families live here. Mrs. Remington gave birth to a son, and a few hours later Mrs. Vosbury gave birth to two daughters.

Cow's Tongue Caught.
Kelso, Wash.—A cow belonging to J. P. Stidham lost about two inches of her tongue by having it caught in a steel trap. When the cow was found her tongue was in bad shape, and Stidham could not figure out what had happened until he found the trap with the missing tongue.

BERT COOPER WANTS NAMES OF CONTESTANTS.

Corn Show and Domestic Science Management Can Send Literature to Pupils.

The following letter with reference to the contests of the agricultural and domestic science association was mailed Saturday to all of the school teachers of the county by County Superintendent Bert Cooper:

Dear Friend: I am hereby sending you enrollment blanks for the 1916 annual contest of the agricultural and domestic science association which will be held in connection with the Teachers' meeting this fall. The prizes will be similar to those offered last year, and you may begin at once to secure the enrollments so the boys may receive their letters on corn as soon as possible. When your premium list is received I trust you will go over it carefully so as to note exactly what changes have been made.

The agricultural and domestic science contest is the greatest educational factor in Nodaway county for encouraging boys and girls to become scientific and efficient producers which will make them the country's greatest benefactors. When you encourage this worthy enterprise you not only benefit the boys and girls but you render a public service, the results of which live on forever. I am sure you are desirous of placing yourself on record as a progressive teacher or citizen and you cannot avail yourself of a greater opportunity than to at once enroll every boy and girl between the ages of 10 and 20 in your community in this contest and thus enable us to place in their hands the best instructional literature available.

I would suggest that the boys and girls secure seed corn in their own neighborhood if possible. If not, pure bred corn may be secured from A. P. Howden, Skidmore, Mo.; J. F. Kellogg, Skidmore, Mo.; M. C. Thompson, Maryville, Mo.; J. S. Corden, Burlington Junction, Mo.; J. D. Gates & Sons, Ravenwood, Mo.; S. S. Webb, Burlington Junction, Mo.; Len A. Saunders, Holcomb, Mo. Secure the best pure bred corn possible. I would recommend that they buy the ear corn in preference to shelled corn.

Begin enrolling at once and send the enrollments to me as soon as possible so we may send literature to the boys and girls. Write me for more blanks if you can use them. The more the better.

Yours for fifteen hundred enrollments.

BERT COOPER,
Manager.

CINDERS KEEP THEM WARM.

Tramps Take Advantage of Work Being Conducted by Penn Road.

Beaver Falls, Pa.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company has been making a fill of the Beaver river between New Brighton and Rochester with the intention of changing its main line between the two points to eliminate a long curve. The fill requires hundreds of carloads of cinders, which are loaded into the cars while red hot. When unloaded they retain the heat for days.

This has made the place a winter resort for hoboes. At all hours the entire embankment, a mile or more in length, swarms with a heterogeneous crowd of old and young men, who eat, drink, make merry and sleep.

On the hot cinders the tramps make coffee and cook the fruits of foraging parties. When sleepy they scoop out a bed in the warm ashes and after carefully removing the cinders burrow down in the yielding mass and sleep in comparative comfort on the coldest nights, with only their heads visible.

DELAY FUNERAL FOR COFFIN.

Had to Select Lumber From Farm For Woman's Interment.

St. Louis.—The funeral of Mrs. Anton Weineke of Edwardsville, Ill., was delayed until a coffin could be made from a walnut tree on her "home place."

Mrs. Weineke and her husband, three years ago, picked out the walnut tree on their farm from which to have their coffin made. It was sawed into boards, which were permitted to season until last June, when Weineke took the lumber to a planing mill and ordered it made into coffins. Weineke was then eighty years old, and his wife was seventy-seven.

The work of making the caskets was put off. When Mrs. Weineke died, rather unexpectedly, orders were given to rush one of the coffins to completion.

Mrs. Weineke was the daughter of Anton Louis, a pioneer St. Louis druggist.

TEACHER WEDS PUPIL BEFORE HIS SCHOOL

Scholars Dumfounded at First, but Later Cheer.

Vernon, Miss.—Professor Porter, organizer of the Vernon separate school, and Miss Clarence Palmer, one of the pupils, were principals in a romance that grew into marriage before any of the other pupils got the slightest inkling of it.

Professor Porter one morning recently called school as usual. He heard all classes apparently without letting his mind turn toward the event that was but a few hours off. At 3 p. m. Judge Armstrong Rogers slipped into the schoolroom and took a rear seat. The pupils looked around, thought it uncommon, but concluded that the squire was just a casual visitor.

At 4 o'clock the scholars had all books, slates, sponges and rulers tucked away, ready for the dismissal bell. Professor Porter ascended the rostrum, said he was going to turn over a new leaf and asked Miss Palmer if she were ready. She flushed slightly. Squire Rogers took her arm, and together they walked up to the professor on the platform. The marriage ceremony was pronounced while the scholars sat silent and dumfounded.

The professor kissed his bride. The pupils, recovering from their surprise, lustily gave the "three times three" football yell for the couple. Professor Porter is known as an artist, soldier and educator. The bride is a beautiful young lady of many accomplishments.

CROWBAR PIERCES BODY.

Fellow Workmen Pulled It Out and Blake Will Recover.

Grass Valley, Cal.—How a man could strike upon the sharp end of a crowbar, have it pierce his flesh and come out under a rib and still live is the remarkable part of an accident which befell Joseph Blake.

He was working at his father's mining claim and was standing upon a bank when he felt the earth give way under him. He jumped and in his excitement did not notice the bar, which was sticking out of the ground.

It penetrated his back in the lower part and ranged upward toward the waist line and emerged under the lower rib. He was rushed to a sanitarium after his fellow employees had pulled the bar out of his flesh. It is believed Blake will recover.

Volcano Pumice on Ship.

San Francisco.—Pumice stone from a submarine disturbance mingled with the waves which battered the Oceanic Steamship company's liner Sierra during a hurricane three days out from Sydney, New South Wales, according to a report made by the captain of the steamer when it reached port here. For hours the ship was in the sea of pumice, pieces varying in size from a marble, he says, to a silk hat being thrown on deck by the waves.

Skater Stricken Dead.

Plainfield, N. J.—Shortly after leaving a skating party on Hooley's pond, North Plainfield, William White of Rock View terrace was found dead on the sidewalk within two blocks of his home. A physician said heart disease killed him.

EXAMINE a fine lace collar that has been washed with Ivory Soap. Notice how clear it is, how much it feels like a new piece, how fresh and unworn it looks in every thread.

It is tests such as this that show the all-round quality of Ivory Soap—its mildness, purity and freedom from uncombined alkali.

To Wash Real Lace Collars and other Fine Laces

Baste the lace to a piece of clean white muslin so that each point and picot is held firmly in place. Make a good lather of Ivory Soap and warm water and let the lace soak for thirty minutes. Then alternately press between hands and dip into the water until clean. Do not rub. If necessary, use a second clean sud of Ivory Soap. Then rise in clear water, next in blue water and lastly in a thin starch. Tack on a board stretching the muslin evenly. When nearly dry, remove from the board and press thoroughly through the muslin. Do not put iron on the lace. When dry, cut the basting threads and you will find the lace like new.

"DIVINE SARAH" HERE

PHOTOPLAY BY BERNHARDT AT FERN MARCH 27.

In Filming "Jeanne Dore," Loss of Leg Is Made Less Obvious by Good Camera Work.

Students of the drama, the ordinary devotee of the theater or anybody who thinks beyond the daily routine of existence will have cause to be glad that the moving picture camera has been brought into the artistic activities of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt. The final emotions of this wondrous actress have been preserved for all time and the generations to follow us will have access to the moving pictures of "Jeanne Dore"—the last play in which the famous tragedienne acted upon the stage of her own theater.

Although Bernhardt still lives, it is just as well to speak of her as departed from the drama; for her physical disabilities have practically terminated her stage activities. With an artificial support substituted for the limb severed by the surgeon, even so great an actress and dissembler as Bernhardt cannot be expected to maintain the illusion of physical completeness that is wholly essential to good acting.

The trickery of the photoplay producer very readily accomplishes what nature itself cannot—for nature is nothing more or less than natural and photography is nothing else than artifice. Thus it happens that in the Bluebird masterpiece, "Jeanne Dore," which will present Mme. Bernhardt at the Fern theater next Monday, March 27, the marvelous tragedienne will be shown only as the superlative actress, physically at her best, and artistically as ever, without a peer.

Whenever she starts to walk the scene is immediately changed through the device of the switchback, the cut-off or the printed legend. Thus if the actress rises from a chair and starts to walk across the room to a window there is an instantaneous snuffing out of the picture and when it again covers the screen the player is discovered at her destination.

In all of the scores of scenes in which she takes part, Mme. Bernhardt is photographed while seated, leaning against some article of furniture or supported in some manner. And right here is where the wonderful art of the great actress is exemplified—she is forced by conditions to show her emotions almost entirely by facial expression, and only Bernhardt could depict the gripping story of "Jeanne Dore" under the handicap of her misfortune.

The director has anticipated the screen conditions—every scene in which Bernhardt takes part is photographed at close range, to give play to every changing emotion mirrored upon her face as fleetly and expressively as though the spoken word were also heard to intensify the expression. This is the pantomime art of the great French tragedienne; the gift of silent expression that has always been her dominant faculty.

ROCKS HIGH TOWER BY HAND.

California University's Campanile Oscillates Under Man's Pressure.

Berkeley, Cal.—Elmer E. Hall, associate professor of physics of the University of California, stood at the foot of the 300 foot campanile on the campus and with one hand shook the giant structure.

Professor Hall has seismograph records, photographs and a lot of data to prove that he moved the huge granite needle and is prepared to lecture to his students as to how the trick is done. He says:

"I placed a delicate seismograph like those used to record earthquakes on the top of the tower. Then I went down to the ground and about once in a second pushed my hand against the granite shaft. By applying this pressure in time with the natural period of vibration of the campanile I set the whole mass in motion so that its vibrations were clearly recorded by the seismograph."

The campanile is regarded as a masterpiece of earthquake resistive construction.

TREATS SON FOR RABIES.

Paterson Physician Rushed to Parent in Chicago For Aid.

Paterson, N. J.—Believing he was developing symptoms of hydrophobia, Dr. Francois Was of 75 East Eighteenth street, Paterson, widely known for his treatment of hydrophobia cases, left for Chicago, where he is being treated for prevention of the dreaded disease by his father, Dr. Juan Was, an eminent physician and surgeon of that city.

Whether Dr. Was became infected while attending patients or through a laceration of his right leg by a dog which bit him while he was on a call at Fairlawn several weeks ago is a matter of conjecture. The dog attacked his sister, Miss Huberdyn Was, who accompanied him. The physician saved her, but was himself bitten.

CORPSE SPOKE TO THEM.

"Say! What Do You Want?" Supposed Dead Person Demanded.

Omaha, Neb.—Coroner's assistants were preparing to place Sam Larson in the "dead basket" and carry him away to the undertaking parlors. A telephone report had informed the officials that Sam was dead. Suddenly the "corpse" stirred and then sat up.

"Say, what do you fellows want?" "It" demanded in an aggrieved tone.

Sam was sent to the charity organization instead of to the undertaker's.

When nothing was seen of Sam, who is seventy-five years old, for several days an investigation was made. He was found unconscious, and it was believed that he was dead.

RILEY WALKS IN AT HIS OWN FUNERAL

Body of Accident Victim Said to Be His.

Cincinnati—Edward Riley of Detroit walked into the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Becker, in East Fifth street, the other day and put a stop to his own funeral.

His weeping relatives at first stared. Then followed embraces, and the body of a man killed in an automobile accident in Detroit and sent here as that of Riley was removed to an undertaker's parlors.

Riley declares that the stranger whose burial as his came so near happening was Fred Ellis, a derelict, to whom he gave an old coat not long ago. At Detroit, according to the police, Mrs. Becker and her husband both recently identified the remains of the man, and on this identification a check for $1,500 from an insurance company was presented at the Becker home here in payment of their loss. However, the real Mr. Riley refused to let his sister cash the check.

The Wayne county coroner at Detroit will be asked to direct the disposition of the body that was turned aside.

The presence of the two postcards from Mrs. Becker to Riley found in the coat, it is said, explained Riley's story.

FARMERS' LOT MADE HARDER.

Mail by Motor Comes in Night Mostly. Curiosity Can't Wait.

Washington. — Motorcars on rural mail routes do not make a bit with farmers, according to Representative Gray of Indiana, who made a vigorous kick against the innovation in the house.

"The barking of the farm dog in the middle of the night instead of the crowing of the cock is now the signal that the postman has arrived," Mr. Gray said indignantly, "and the poor farmer is forced to go out with a lantern to see what has happened to his mail box."

Bride Finds Wealth in Attic.

Point Pleasant, Va.—While rummaging in the attic of her home the day following her recent marriage at Evans, near here, Mrs. John Board found $1,500 in gold and many thousands in currency. The paper was folded together so the bills could not be separated. They were sent to the United States treasury department to be counted. The board was concealed under the floor of the attic.

NOTICE, PRIZE HUNTERS

State Board of Agriculture Does Not Offer Rewards for Cholera Cure or Odd Rows on Ears.

Please take notice, prize hunters. Jewell Mayes, secretary, implores you to read carefully and quit writing to know if there is a prize for odd-corn row ears and a new cure for hog cholera. He thinks that the following statement will be of interest, judging from recent correspondence:

The Missouri state board of agriculture receives as it were the whole year round two strings of questions, these: "Is there a standing reward for a cure for hog cholera?" and "What is the prize for an ear of corn with an odd row of grains?"

Let it be known again, once and for all time, that there is no standing (nor sitting) reward for a new cure for hog cholera, for the man who perfects such a remedy would have his immediate reward in a commercial way.

Neither is there any general reward for an ear of corn with an odd row of grains. If you want an "odd row" you may "doctor" an ear next August and grow your own odd ear.

Every Now and Then

—I run across the man who "doesn't believe in advertising"—one who says "advertised goods cost more."

As a general rule—while he says that he at least is not influenced by advertising—he has on an advertised collar and advertised shoes; he shaves with advertised soap and an advertised razor. He reads advertised books—and goes to an advertised theatre. And if he smokes—it's an advertised tobacco.

Every time I meet him—I'm genuinely sorry for him, as I am sorry for the man who doesn't believe in telephones. (For such men still exist.)

The big economic problem of the world is now, as it always has been—

"How can each of us get the most from his day's work?"

Measured in gold, wages may be lower or higher than they used to be.

Measured in things to eat and things to wear; in books to read and music to hear; measured in comfort or convenience—in shoes to walk in or automobiles to ride in—everyone of us gets infinitely more for his day's work than anyone a hundred years ago.

And so, more in proportion than last year, or last month—or, indeed—than yesterday.

This century has made more difference in the physical things of life, than any other single century ever made. For this century saw the beginnings of steam and electricity. Steam meant quicker transportation of goods—electricity quicker transportation of ideas.

If it hadn't been for great and wide distribution, the great factories—which have made good things cheap and cheap things better—could never have existed.

If it had not been for the railroads—great and wide distribution could not have existed.

If it were not for the advertisements that take to millions of people the news of what the great factories are producing—the factories could not exist.

If it were not for advertising, you might be paying $2 for something that was better made a hundred miles away for $1.

And—if it were not for advertising, you would be living today without even knowing of the existence of most of the things that are now necessary to your comfort. The sewing machine costs money—but cheapens shirts. The printing press costs money—but cheapens books.

The telephone costs millions—and saves tens of millions. Advertising costs money—and not only lowers selling costs, but, by increasing the field of competition, lowers prices too.

And advertising does a finer thing than all of these. For it stirs in men the desire for better goods—for better homes—and so—for finer lives. It is the one biggest, broadest, single economic influence for good in the world today.

So—when, now and then, I meet the man "who doesn't believe in advertising," I am glad. For I am apt to tell him some of the reasons that I think him wrong. Which is a pretty good way to burnish up and strengthen my own faith.
